

Blink / We Shall Ride Again

Blink marks Daryl Austin's ninth solo exhibition at Greenaway Gallery. The new work shows a series of portraits with the subjects' eyes closed, exploring Austin's fascination with "images of friends taken on a mobile phone, how awkward they were, caught mid speech, eyes half closed". We Shall Ride Again explores Warren Vance's series of collages, photographs and video works with an underpinning idea looking at 'cartography of childhood'.
